Problem Statement

Exploring a new city or even your own locality should be exciting, but it often becomes confusing due to outdated reviews, random suggestions, and limited word-of-mouth. Sometimes, the mentioned shop may not even exist at the specified spot. This makes it harder to find authentic food spots

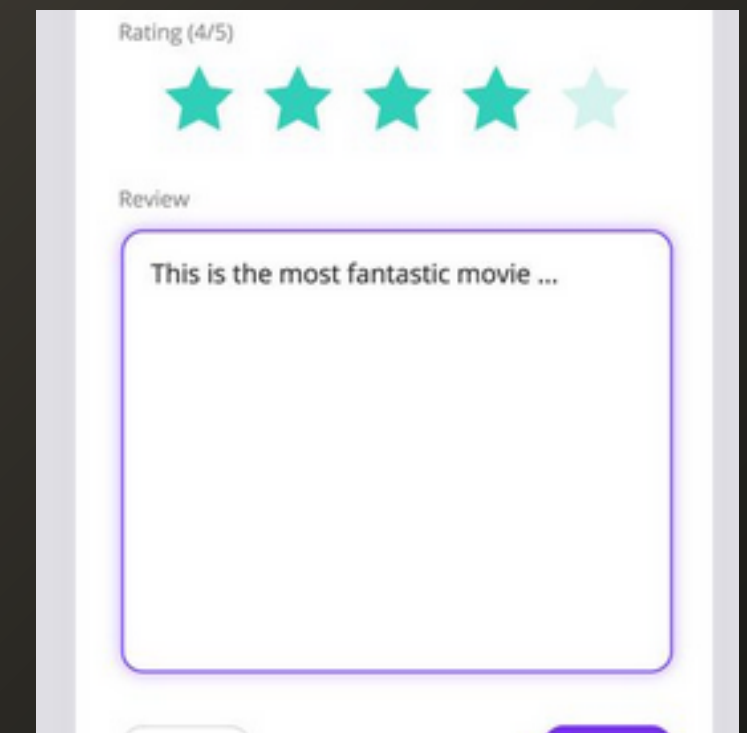

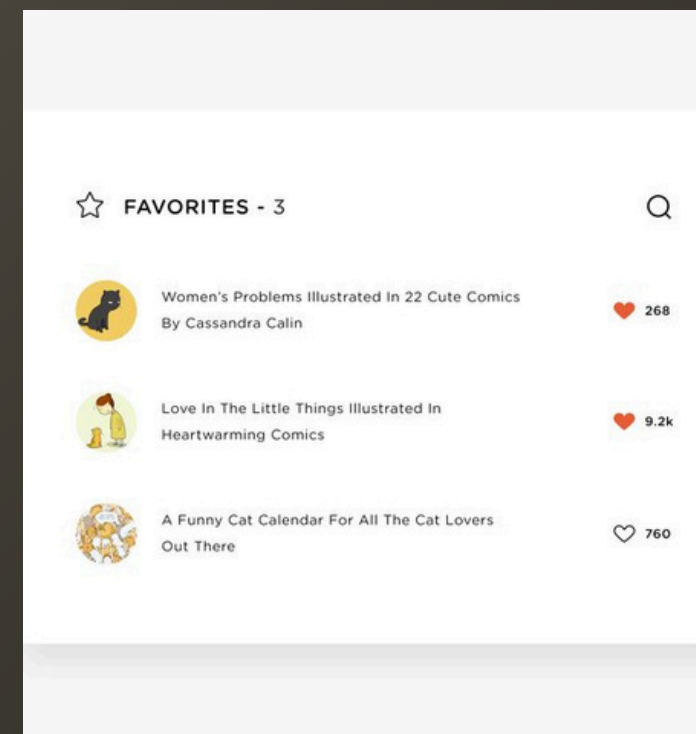

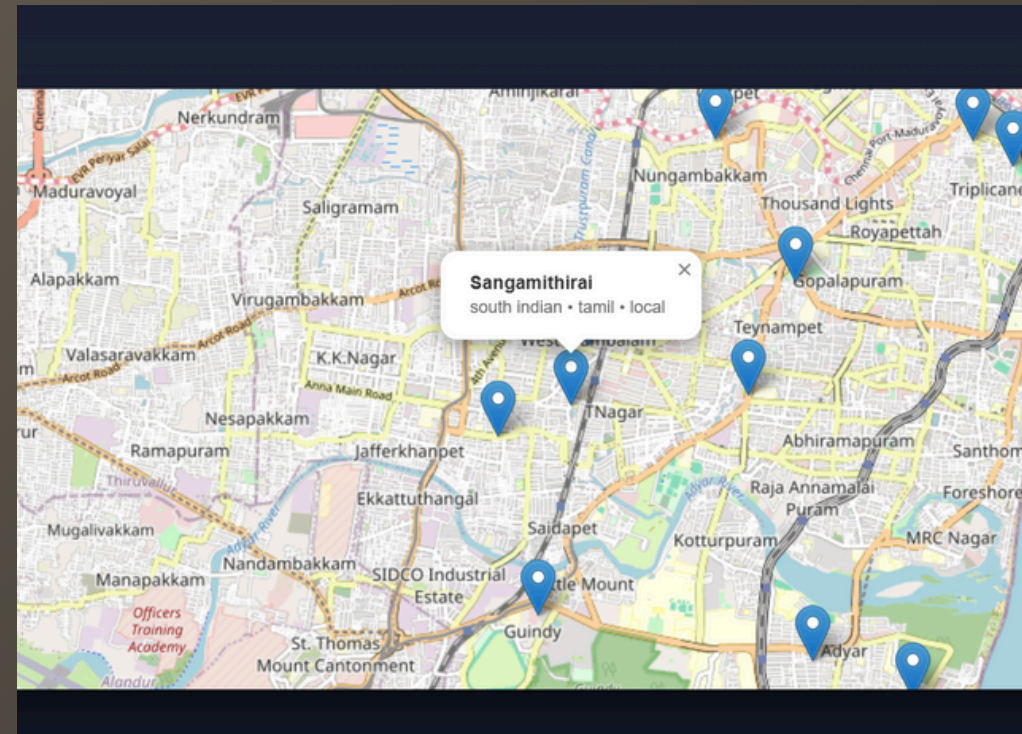

Solution

Our solution is a website that helps tourists and locals discover authentic food spots that truly represent a place. The website provides an interactive map for easy navigation, along with regularly updated reviews to ensure reliability. Users can also save their favorite restaurants, making it easier to revisit and share trusted food experiences.

Features

- Interactive Maps
- Updated Reviews
- Favourites Lists
- Authenticity

Impact

- Helps tourists and locals discover authentic food spots with confidence.
- Provides greater visibility for small and hidden shops, boosting local businesses.
- Creates a personalized food journey with favorites and crowdsourced reviews.
- Reduces frustration from closed or outdated listings, saving users' time and effort.
- Builds a community-driven platform where locals and travelers share genuine experiences.
- Encourages exploration of cultural and regional cuisines, promoting local food heritage.
- Increases trust and transparency by removing inactive or false listings.

Future Scope

- Real-time backend to keep shop updates and reviews accurate at all times.
- Tourism board tie-ups to promote authentic regional cuisines and hidden gems.
- Food delivery and booking integration to make the website more convenient for users.
- Multi-language support so international tourists can access the app easily.
- Smart filters for budget, dietary needs, and opening hours to refine search results.

Conclusion

Our website provides a reliable and community-driven way to discover authentic food spots. By combining interactive maps, and personalized features, it not only helps tourists and locals find genuine places to eat but also supports small businesses in gaining visibility. This makes food exploration easier, trustworthy, and more enjoyable for everyone.
